

It's That Time Again ELECTION YEAR

★ How will we respond in this culture ★
as followers of Jesus?

- Read Romans 12:10-21 together and open group in prayer.
 - Take some time to review your notes from Sunday. What key phrases, ideas, or Scriptures stood out?
 - How do you view the role of God's sovereignty in political outcomes, particularly in the context of voting and leadership?
 - Considering the "three Worlds of Evangelism" framework, how do you think Christians should navigate societal views and cultural pressures in today's "Negative World"?
 - In the context of Romans 12:10-21, How can followers of Jesus demonstrate "Jesus-like" love toward those with opposing views or stances? What are some practical steps for living this out within our own families, small group, and church family?
 - How can we find balance between political engagement and maintaining our primary allegiance to the values of Jesus?
 - How can we apply Romans 12:9, "cling to what is good" in our current climate and circumstances? What is one way you will commit this week to live out Romans 12:9?

Be sure to spend time praying as a group.

You may want to continue the practice of fasting this week. In particular to use that time and space to offer prayer for our country and leaders.
